    "description": "An online marketing consultant who's here to help small to medium sized businesses attract, engage and retain online customers. I can investigate where customers can and cannot find you, verify that you're leveraging the correct online services, and when they do find you that they see complete and accurate information about your business that informs and encourages them to connect. I can also check your website to make sure that it's accessible to those with a disability, that everything works as expected and that the site is easy to use.",
